ESSAY: Living Water

The Living Water I speak of in my essays, issuing from the 'Well of In-spired Reason' is the experience everyone has, when awakening to realise the deeper forces hidden within us all. The power issuing as Living Water within us, from the higher planes of mind are not limited by the lower mind's limitations, desires or intentions.

Each outpouring of the Living Water has the purpose of enabling the person receiving them to transcend these limitations, these desires, their intentions, and introduce a whole new element and experience of Spirit into their lives.

Only when the Spirit flows through us in power, is our intellect able to grasp the reality and power, the word 'Spirit' encapsulates. The words 'electric shock', mean little to the intellect of one who has never had one. Yet, to the emotions and feeling nature, of a person who has experienced a shock, the phrase is full of meaning!

Likewise with the word 'Spirit', if one has not developed awareness of its flow from deep within, then the word will be empty, devoid of meaning.

This Spiritual power is the transforming element the lower mind rejects, when it hears about it. It turns away from it, it reduces the evidence of it in others to 'opinion,' to 'madness,' to 'delusion,' because that is exactly what the lower mind itself is, and in order to continually control you, it must deceive you into accepting that no higher state exists.

The experience of the Living Water is the immersion in the Spirit and Power of the higher states of consciousness, so the lower can no longer deny their existence. This inner experience is the origin of the 'sacrament' of 'baptism' foreshadowed in the 'mikvah,' the ritual cleansing in the Hebrew tradition.

The lower beastly 666 carnal mind within us, is always twisting and turning to deceive us. That is the nature which has emerged through our own ignorant use of the Power of the WORD.

As the human family has spoken in ignorance for thousands of years, these words create the Race Thought Atmosphere, which is the energy fields all around us, composed of all the thoughts, words and deeds we have formed and, which behave exactly like the weather.

The Race Thought Atmosphere contains psychic forces and egregores, which are non-physical forces, which influence everyone, until they are taught how to overcome them. The 'Race Thought Atmosphere' is the sea of energy, we are all steeped in at birth, which is the death of our soul to the higher planes.

As we grow up, we lose Soul contact, and become more and more steeped in the race thought atmosphere, as the seed thoughts-words-and deeds of those around us are seeded into our minds and begin to live in us, as us, but are not us.

In this way does 'history repeat itself,' because the seed ideas our forefathers succumbed to, we are succumbing to. Each generation has passed on both beneficial and destructive seed ideas, and it is our work to harvest our minds, and sift the beneficial from the destructive and free ourselves.

As the intellect has taken on a 'personality' our forefathers called this 'Satan', meaning 'the divider...because that is exactly what the intellect does: in analyses. It divides, dissects, yet, because it has divided itself from the emotional intelligence, it falls short (sins) of understanding that which it is observing.

As the intellect has been favoured, over the emotions, it has taken on an 'evil' (destructive) personification, simply because it dissects and analyses ad infinitum, without due respect for the principle of all analysis, which is: synthesis.

All analysis must serve the principle of synthesis, of understanding how everything works as a whole.

In the human psyche, this constant division creates fear, and each division inherits the principle of the thought it derived from; division. So this is exactly how and why the world is divided against itself. Each 'division' 'fighting' against the other, because that is their innate nature.

Set against one another, in an endless 'fight' like two snakes wrestling. All of which is taking place within each of us. All this twisting and turning of the carnal mind within us, is what our forefathers called the 'genius of evil,' which sustains ALL suffering in the world; ALL sickness; ALL division; and ALL death.

They called it that because each division usurps the ideas of the higher planes of consciousness to serve selfishness, division, fear and greed and each drawing life from the same source is equally matched and can never overcome the other.

This constant struggle creates the illusion of 'good versus evil' according to the motives and desires of the people involved. This illusion is what has deceived the whole world, or all those still immersed in the race thought atmosphere, its psychic forces and egotisms.

So, people take sides according to their perception, yet both 'sides' are really forks of the same tongue and as long as this level of consciousness, the beastly 666 mind is dominant, the suffering continues.

So, we are ALL to overcome the beastly 666 mind, and taking up our cross, which we have ALL already done by incarnating, do the necessary work to ascend into the higher planes of consciousness.

In the past, this has been difficult, because the lower mind has deceived everyone and denied that such a higher state exists. Those of the lower mind hijacked the scriptures of ALL teachings and misrepresented them, so people did not have the Keys (understanding) to their own Kingdom (Spirit-Mind-Body Unity).

Now, you have the key and the understanding of the planes of consciousness and their numbers, and it is clear how we are to ascend and in healing ourselves, demonstrate to others, they can too.

As we live, we all have experiences. These are ALL important. They make up the events of our lives. Yet, as long as the lower mind is dominant, then these experiences are full of doubt... why?

Because we have them to awaken us out of the very mind having them. When this lower beastly 666 mind in us does not reason over the experiences HARVESTING THEIR FRUIT, then growth and spiritual evolution is severely limited.

This is the trap of the intellect, the 'seat of Satan' within every person, which we are all in the process of overcoming. Hence the real purpose of 'religion' is to overcome the division within ourselves, and attain peace (wholeness) and freedom from ALL suffering.

Forget everything the word has previously meant to you, and understand our forefathers died to protect this teaching so that future generations may benefit.

Religion is the binding back of the fragmented planes of consciousness into a unified whole to come to Know Thyself, and Spirituality, is the distillation and condensing of the Wisdom Teachings to become more powerful and save others having to do the same search.

Spirituality and religion are one and anyone who seeks to separate them is still enslaved by the lower 666 dividing mind, the intellect or 'Satan'.

Analysis is essential, let all analysis serve the principle of synthesis, and be done by the Light of Spirit.

As we do the necessary work to look at ourselves, and dis-cover our higher mind, the power of the Spirit flowing through us consciously, transforms our understanding, and imparts meaning to every experience that the lower mind within us cannot, nay, refuses to grasp.

Once immersed in the Living Water, the lower mind is partially cleansed and the person is awakened to the Power of the Spirit and the journey to find and understand its source within, and how the mind builds the body, our book of life, begins.

This foretaste of Living Water imparts BLISS and when followed, reveals more and more power within, as the individual is sincere and true to its nature.

What becomes evident, is that as we live by the Divine Law, the Spirit has the power to heal everything.

Who does not desire to see the end of suffering? The lower beastly mind in us. That aspect which has enslaved the whole human family, for it fears to lose its power. Yet, the opposite is true, the Spirit liberates the lower mind from destructive tendencies and married to the emotional intelligence the person becomes far more self-knowledgeable, powerful and free.

Create a quiet place and set aside some time. Then focussing on your breathing, sit still. Breathe gently and calm the mind and body. Below the surface of this 'reality' created by the lower mind's projections is a whole new world awaiting each of us.

When the Living Water erupts from deep within you, every word on these pages and in my other essays will take on new meaning.

I love you ALL.
